

Course Selection Timeline

Completing the course selection process indicates that students and parents commit to the courses they choose, including alternate courses.

January 21st – 28th	Careful deliberation and conversations regarding courses <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Teachers will discuss options for next year with their classes as well as individual students identifying the appropriate level of courses to take. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ AP and Accelerated courses move at a faster pace and require more independent work than other courses. ○ Students should expect to have 2 – 3 hours of homework a night. ● Students will discuss their desired course selections with their parents and advisors, seeking balance in their school and co-curricular commitments. ● Students and parents should consult the Curriculum Guide when selecting courses. ● The following questions have been recommended for parents to discuss with their son(s) by Dr. Brian Fidlin, a clinical psychologist from the Milwaukee area: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ How would I rate my son’s ability to manage stress? ○ What stress management tools do we have in place already? How much do we know about stress and how to manage it? (Completely eliminating stress is not desirable nor realistic.) ○ How much does my son have on his plate? How much will he have on his plate when school is in session? ○ What are signs my son displays when he is stressed v. non-stressed, overwhelmed v. not overwhelmed? How quickly can he adjust to the stress he experiences and manage it? ○ At what level of stress do I want my son functioning? What if that means turning opportunities down—is he/are we prepared to eliminate activities to better manage stress and improve overall health (both mental health and physical health)?
